(By The Associated Press)
Two days of tremendous rains
have sent floodwaters swirling over thousands of acres in the deep south and have brought huge damage to highways, farms, and homes.

WARMEST DAY HERE
Thursday was the warmest
day of the year. Coyt Stookey, weather observer here, reported that the mercury went to 72 degrees, topping a previous high
of 67 degrees recorded on Feb. 3.
Topping off the warm day
were some cooling thundershowers, which brought .46 of an inch of rain during the night.

Alabama was hit hardest. Two persons drowned in Mississippi.
North Georgia braced for the impact of rampart rivers. Louisiana was soaked.

In West Alabama two rivers
with big-shot names -- the Tombigbee and the Warrior -- sent low-landers scurrying to high ground.
Much livestock was reported drowned. Far reaches of rich farmland were lapped by muddy waters, and farmers counted among their losses the certain delay
in spring planting.

In northeast Alabama, the Ca-
haba and Coosa rivers overleaped
their banks and fanned out. National Guardsmen were on duty

Schooner and All-Girl Crew
Are Safe in Port Again after Being Lost in Gulf of Mexico

A HARROWING EXPERIENCE on the Gulf of Mexico today was only a memory for the all-girl crew and male skipper of the Schooner Tropicair. They left St. Petersburg March 24 for an Easter weekend in Cuba, but got lost on the gulf. Here are four of the crew, from left to right: Dottie Sherrill, 20, (seated), fashion model; Clarice Willis, 20, college student; Janice Kaufman, 19, skipper's secretary and Pat Fenner, 21, St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 30 —(P)—Members of the all-girl crew who got lost and had to be towed back home on their first try at sailing from St. Petersburg to Havana, are already looking forward to next year's race.

The eight-girls who sailed the Tropicair from St. Petersburg Saturday ran into about every imaginable trouble short of being shipwrecked before a coast guard
boat pulled them in here last night.

They and their male skipper, Le Hederman, owner of the 43-foot schooner, were as chippy as when they started—almost.

"I'll be back in the next Havana
race with the same outfit --
you wait and see," Hederman said

Judy Holliday
Wins Oscar

HOLLYWOOD, March 30 —(P)—
Judy Holliday, the junk dealer's
squeaky-voiced babe in "Born Yesterday" won the Academy Award last night from two mature actresses, Gloria Swanson and Bette Davis.

Jose Ferrer was given the top
male Oscar for his swagging
performance as the bullheaded
"Cyrano De Bergerac." For the first time in motion picture academy history, neither winner was present. Both Miss Holliday and Ferrer are in New York.

Statuettes for the best supporting roles in 1950 were bestowed on Josephine Hull, the flitting sister in "Harvey," and George Sanders, acid-tongued critic of "All About Eve."

"All About Eve" captured honors for the best film of 1950, winning five other awards as well.

Farm Livestock
Rules Modified

WASHINGTON, March 30 —(P)—
The Office of Price Stabilization
(OPS) today made it clear resident operators of farms who shipped less than 6,000 pounds of meat
in 1950 do not have to register under the livestock slaughter regulation of Feb. 9.

The regulation as originally written required them to register
unless all the livestock was slaughtered on their own farms.
But the OPS said this was not the "intent" of the regulation.

ranging in age from one to 12 years
—perished early today in a fire

Smash Counterattack
On Mountain Trail

By OLEN CLEMENTS
TOKYO, Mar. 30 —(P)—American big guns today stalled the first Chinese Red counterthrust
in six weeks along the Western Korean battlefield.

Doughboys spotted the Chinese
moving along a mountain trail
north of Uijongbu. U. S. artillery pounded the mountain and by dusk the Reds still had not pushed through the curtain of fire.

Bitter, close-range fighting
flared all day throughout the area.
The Americans won a commanding hill with a hand-grenade attack that rocked the Reds back on their heels.

The fury of Communist attacks forced Allied troops to give ground at several points along the front just south of the Red Korean border.

The Reds have moved 30,000
fresh troops into the front. Long lines of vehicles rushed Communist troops and supplies toward the battlefield.

Allied air spotters Thursday night tallied 2,000 Red vehicles—
the largest count of the war—
jamming the Red Korean transport network.

American Indian
Dies Fighting--To Get Hero Award

WASHINGTON, March 30 —(P)—
Wounded and alone, Mitchell
Red Cloud of the Winnebago braced himself against a tree for his last stand.

Fire from his automatic rifle
slowed the rushing hordes of Chinese Communists, giving his brothers-in-arms time to reorganize and evacuate their wounded.

So he stood and fought until the enemy overran him and he died
far from the home of his forefathers.

That was last fall in Korea.
Next Tuesday the government of the United States is conferring upon Corporal Red Cloud, in death, its highest military decoration, the Medal of Honor.

His mother, Mrs. Nellie Red Cloud of Hatfield, Wis., will receive the award from Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

Red Cloud, an American Indian
from Friendship, Wis., was 25
years old when he died a veteran of two wars.

As a marine in World War II,
he served for a time with Carson's Raiders. In October, 1948, he joined the army.

Tidy Fortune Made
With Stolen Money

CHICAGO, March 30 —(P)—A postoffice clerk charged with stealing government funds told prosecutors yesterday he amassed
about $30,000 in the last 12 years
by petty thefts from a postoffice
till.

A federal prosecutor said the clerk told of gambling on horse races, spending on women and in night clubs, but with this difference: he has $10,000 more than enough to pay it all back.

The man held is Felix M. Bue, 51-year-old bachelor and post office employee for 32 years.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Anthony Scarioano said the government has impounded Bue's assets, including $26,000 cash, $12,- 000 in stocks and bonds, and $2,- 000 of other holdings. Scarioano quoted Bue as ready to pay back
the $30,000.

The prosecutor said Bue was a careful gambler, not an extravagant spender, and his investments
proved profitable.

Achievement Day Is Biggest Ever Held--over 300 See Displays

Some 300 women, greatest number to ever turn out for an Achievement Day, packed the First Christian Church Thursday afternoon to display their accomplishments, visit with their friends and hear speeches.

A bright sun and warm temperatures helped swell the size of the crowd, but Mrs. Norma Campbell, home demonstration agent, said
interest in home projects has been steadily mounting since the council program was started four years ago.

Art or craft work which brought out the most exhibits was rug making. Mrs. Walter Carman,
general chairman of Achievement
Day, said she counted 90 rugs entered in the displays.

The turnout for Achievement
Day this year was so sizeable that the women had to be split into two groups for luncheon, served in the basement of the First Christian Church.

Ladies of the First Christian Church served the bountiful meal
to those present.

Presiding over the Achievement
Day activities in the congregation
room of the First Christian Church was Mrs. John Sheeley, whom W. W. Montgomery, the county agent, described as "an outstanding 4-H girl whom I had
years ago."

Mrs. Sheeley, who has since grown to be an outstanding leader
of women in the county, is the president of the Home Demonstration Council.

One of the principal talks given to the women was made by

Miss Edna Callahan, clothing specialist at Ohio State University on the subject: "What's New in Clothing."

Of most interest to the women
was her revelation about a new textile fibre, dacron, which will soon be introduced for the acceptance or rejection of clothing
buyers in the United States.

She said the new fibre was similar to nylon, but it was not as transparent and had less sheen.
She said it was elastic, washable
and warm.

Miss Callahan also told about the work of the American Standards Association in getting uniform markings on clothing so that users would know how to treat the garments.

Crime Inquiries
To Be ContinuedBig Show Is Over;
Reports Planned

WASHINGTON, March 30 —(P)—
Senate crime probes, given an additional 30 days to finish their work, made plain today they expect to recommend some kind of continuing investigation of the underworld.

A resolution extending the committee's life through April 30 was unanimously approved in the Senate late yesterday.

committee free to operate as it has in the past, Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) and other members said no further hearings or investigations are planned in the month ahead.

Instead, after a strenuous
schedule of televised public hearings watched by millions of persons, the committee is going to catch its breath and then try to hammer out recommendations for
new laws.

One of the problems promised careful consideration is what should be done in the future to keep a searchlight on organized crime. Still to be decided is the best method.

The 30-day extension of the committee, made at the unanimous request of Kefauver and the other four members, came amid these developments:

Commie Casualties
In Korea 760,300

WASHINGTON, March 30 —(P)—
The army today estimated Communist Chinese and North Korean casualties in Korea were 760,300 through March 22.

This figure represents an increase of 136,300 since the last
estimates of enemy losses were reported Feb. 20.

The total is made up of 543,000
battle casualties, 76,000 non-battle casualties and 141,300 Red prisoners taken by UN forces.

The army estimated the Chinese Red battle casualties at 260,000,
and their non-battle losses at 31,- 000. By actual count, 139,000 north Koreans have been captured and 2,300 Chinese have been taken prisoner.

U. S. Postal Notes
Are Discontinued

WASHINGTON, March 30 —(P)—
The U. S. postal note will go out of use after tomorrow, concentrating post office handling of money for the public in the standard money order system.

The plan for discontinuance was announced last October in connection with a broad program for simplifying the post office department's accounting system, involving the use of automatic card tabulating machines.

After June 30 of this year,
money orders will be issued in
card form.

Tighter Farm Price Controls Loom

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, March 30 —(P)—
An agriculture department report on farm prices was counted
upon today to influence a drive
within the government for tighter controls on prices of agricultural products.

A sharp advance in farm prices
since the outbreak of the Korean war and the fact that many products are not yet subject to price
ceilings has led top-ranking defense mobilization and stabilization officials to suggest stronger controls.

Under the law, ceilings may not be placed on farm products at less than parity. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices. It is declared by law to be equally fair to farmers and those who buy their products.

A farm price report issued a month ago showed that only nine major products were selling for parity or more, and thus were subject to ceilings. They were hogs,
beef cattle, veal calves, lambs,
wool, cotton, cottonseed, soybeans
and rice.

Goods bringing farmers less
than parity included wheat, corn,
oats, barley, rye, peanuts, potatoes, butterfat, milk, dry beans,
grain sorghums, citrus fruits,

sweet potatoes, apples, chickens
and eggs.

Farm prices in mid-February,
taken as a whole, set a new record
of 213 percent above the 1910-14
average. They were 32 percent higher than a year ago. The bulk of the increase was limited to meat animals.

Today's report will show what farmers were receiving for major products in mid-March and the parity prices for the respective items. Parity prices rise and fall with corresponding changes in the cost of things and services farmers
buy for farm production and family living.

ONE OF THE MORE UNIQUE DISPLAYS shown during the Home Demonstration Council Achievement Day was a number of bird houses. Mrs. W. A. Creamer of Washington C. H. was the builder of these bird houses. She is shown above holding one of the feeders she made to show that women have other talents
than making rugs and sewing.

Squeeze on Bingo
In Northern Ohio

CLEVELAND, March 30 —(P)—
The law was putting the squeeze
on northeastern Ohio bingo operators today.

Widespread raids, orders to close
and even some arrests marked the efforts of officials to end gambling
on bingo's little numbered cards.
The game already has been outlawed in six counties in this area.

In Cleveland, Mayor Thomas A.
Burke last night promised continuing arrests of operators who seek to defy his "no bingo" edict
for the city.

The Brotherhood of Railroad
Trainmen today accepted a rail
management proposal that President Truman name an arbitrator
in a long-standing dispute over rules changes.

Suspect Is Held
On Murder Charges

RIVERSIDE, Calif., March 30 — (P)—Double murder charges, plus five other felony counts, faced air force Sgt. Lawrence J. Walker today as steps were taken both against him and in his possible defense.

The 20-year-old Negro from Newark, N. J., was arraigned on charges of murdering Mr. and Mrs.
Richard Cook, both 19, on the desert and hustled back to his cell
yesterday. Fearing a possible suicide attempt, officers removed Walker's belt and shoe laces.

With Friday, April 13, set for preliminary hearing, Walker's
fiat, Charles Simpson, said she had retained Attorney Sam Houston Allen to defend him. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People had a representative at the arraignment. Two association lawyers are scheduled to confer with Allen and Walker today.

Food Prices Rise

COLUMBUS, March 30 —(P)—
Prices of 22 foods rose in Columbus between mid-February and mid-March, the Ohio department of industrial relations reported today. But prices in 21 other food items in a list of 48 checked dropped. During the preceding 30-day period, prices of five foods
dropped while those of 43 advanced,
the department said.

Meanderings
By Wash Fayette

Yes, it still is a little world.
A few nights ago while in Springfield to attend an antique show and sale I parked in a lot off Main Street in the heart of the city.

As the man in charge started taking down the number of my auto license, he said:

"I'm always glad to see a number from my old home town."

Then I recognized him as one of the Lynch boys who formerly resided on the Leesburg Road. He was in charge of the big parking
lot.

Meeting the former Fayette County boy there reminds me that I have frequently run across former residents or someone who knew residents of Washington C.
H., at distant points.

One time as I paused on the third floor of the Will Rogers Memorial on Cheyenne Mountain, near Colorado Springs, Colorado,
to get a picture looking out over the plains 4,000 feet below, someone yelled my name.

I looked down on the landing
below and there was the smiling
face of Jerry Malloy, of Washington C. H.

Dozens of times in distant points, I have met people who knew someone in Washington C.
H. and asked about them.

Dr. B. F. Kuhlman Called by Death

Rev. B. F. Kuhlman, S. T. D., who was in charge of St. Colman's Catholic Church parish here for four months following the death of Father Thomas E. Fogarty, died Thursday afternoon at Dayton.

His home is at 75 Oxford Avenue in Dayton.

His body is to lie in state in the Loretta from Sunday morning until funeral services are held Monday morning.

Dr. Kuhlman served six years as chaplain of the Loretta preceding his enforced retirement because of failing health.

Father George Kuntz came to St. Colman's Church as administrator for four weeks and then Father Raphael Rodgers came in as pastor for the next four years. Father Rodgers, whose health was not the best while here, went to St. Mary's parish in Chillicothe. He was succeeded by Father Otto F. Guenther, the present pastor of St. Colman's Church.

Red Drive Stalled

ing the first three weeks of April. Seasonal rains turn the Korean countryside into a vast quagmire during that period. Deep mud would bog down UN armor.

The Communists threw their counterattack at Allied forces on the western front. Details were withheld.

But there was every sign the Reds had stopped their retreat and would make a stand along the Red Korean border.

American troops on the east central front moved closer to the border than they have ever been on their present drive.

The Red infantry was poised along a 60-mile front.

Many of the fresh troops may be replacements for Reds felled by a triple epidemic of typhus, smallpox and typhoid fever. Allied sources said the diseases had hit untold thousands of civilians and Red soldiers in North Korea in recent weeks.

Bunch Along Border

The new arrivals were bunched along parallel 38 on a 60-mile line centered north of Cunchon. Chunchon is eight miles south of the border.

They could be the jump-off force of an expected Communist spring offensive.

The U. S. Eighth Army command says the Reds at any moment can throw nine rested or fresh army corps—some 270,000 men—into such a drive.

If they do, it would be their greatest smash of the war.

President Truman told a news conference in Washington he still wants a free and united Korea. He said the question of crossing the parallel is a military matter.

More than 80 United Nations and Red jet fighters tangled today in two dogfights high over North Korea.

One Russian-made MIG jet was shot down. Two were damaged. UN planes weren't touched.

Rains Mostly Over

But in Alabama and elsewhere in the south the rains were mostly over. Ironically, skies were clearing as the flood threat inched toward its peak.

The Tennessee River was climbing steadily. The heaviest rainfall in the Tennessee Valley was recorded at Haleyville, Ala., -- 7.69 inches in 48 hours. Falkville, Ala., had 6.95 inches. Damage to highways and bridges in Calhoun County alone was estimated at $300,000.

Other parts of the country also got a wetting, some with a mixture of rain and snow.

Rain pelted most of the middle and north Atlantic states and the Great Lakes region as well as a small section of the northern Rockies and plateau states.

Colder weather spreading to the south brought a mixture of rain and snow over Missouri and central Illinois. Most of the snow melted as it fell over Missouri but there was a two-inch cover at Kirksville. A light blanket of snow also was reported in eastern Iowa. A heavy damp snow struck southwestern Idaho last night, disrupting telephone service to about 500 rural subscribers.

as he came ashore. "They're a great crew and a swell bunch of girls x x x. No crew of men could have done better."

The only one doubtful about another jaunt on the deep was Dottie Sherrill, pretty blonde clerk.

"I'm not so sure I ever want to sail again," she admitted. "Maybe after I get rested up and get a good meal I'll see things differently."

The navigator, Pat Fenner, said their troubles began Monday after a mixup in signals from a coast guard put them 45 miles off their course.

That practically turned them around. Then the sails blew out and the other troubles followed.

Wednesday they signed a fishing boat with three deaf mutes aboard, and by tossing notes back and forth, got further directions toward the coast.

The fishing boat put the coast guard on the right track in the widespread hunt for the Tropicair. A coast guard plane spotted the schooner about 50 miles south of here yesterday and sent a cutter to escort it in.

American Casualties In Korea Now 57,120

WASHINGTON, March 30.—(AP)—Announced American casualties in Korea rose to 57,120 today, an increase of 1,306 since last week.

The wounded figure included 1,004 who have since died and the missing total included 87 known dead, raising total combat deaths to 9,602.

Of the missing, 1,063 have since returned to U. S. military control and 111 are known prisoners of war, leaving 9,430 currently missing.

Total army casualties went up 1,012 to 47,450 during the week. Marine casualties reached 8,602, which was 274 more than reported the previous week.

The navy total by eight, reaching 628. The air force reported 12 additional casualties for a current total of 440.

Crash Victim Home After 34th Operation

LOS ANGELES, March 30.—(AP)—Gerry Fitzgerald returned home yesterday after his 34th operation. Every bone in his body except his spine was broken in an airplane crash in Switzerland in 1946.

Prices ran up more than $3 a share among the carrier, while elsewhere in the market advances extended a little more than $1 a share. Losses were scattered widely, but they were cut off at about the 50-cent level.

By SIGRID ARNE
(For JAMES MARLOW)

WASHINGTON, March 30 —(P)—Out of Korea has come the first official report of how Communists treat farmers. It is written by Robert A. Kinney, an officer for the Economic Cooperation Administration who followed United Nations troops into North Korea last summer.

He talked to North Korean farmers who had lived under both the Japanese occupation and the Communist government which started in 1945.

He also talked to South Korean farmers who lived under the American occupation and then under the government of the Republic of South Korea.

Washington has had reports on how the Soviets treat their own farmers and farmers in the middle European satellite nations. But those reports were always sneaked out by refugees. Never before has a U. S. government official had the chance to walk into former Communist territory and actually talk to the men who had tried to till the land under the Red flag. Kinney found that the Reds made a hurried gesture in 1945 to carry political favor with the North Koreans. They redistributed the land—took it from absentee landlords and gave it to tenants—in 23 days.

That lasted until 1948, when the Reds suddenly redistributed the land again, giving all the best to Communist party favorites. It seemed the Communists had only given farmers "use rights" rather than title to the land. When they wanted to throw a farmer off his land they simply took away his "use rights."

Kinney says the farmers realized that the system made them "merely tenants of the state and reduced them to the status of slaves."

In 1947 the Communists decreed a "production tax in kind." Farmers were forced to turn in 27 percent of their rice and 23 percent of their other crops. The farmers thought this was high enough, but they found in some cases they actually had to pay the new Red government as much as 50 percent of what they produced.

The percentage tax was not levied on what they actually produced but on what their Red masters thought they ought to produce.

The North Korean farmers were astounded to learn of the land reform program which had been put into effect in South Korea under the American occupation and the Republic of South Korea.

In South Korea farmers were given the chance to get title to their land in five years in return for a third of their major crop for five years.

Under that program 60 percent of the South Korean farmers had gained free title to their land, Kinney reports, and 40 percent were on the road when the Communist invasion disrupted the program.

A recent survey showed that in the United States one out of three women work; one out of three U. S. workers is a woman, and one married out of four works.

The first glass made by men was colored and great difficulty was encountered when the attempt was made to make it clear.

Mother of Two Praises Hadacol

HADACOL Supplies Deficient Systems With Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

Mrs. Elmer Hise, 3225 2nd Ave., Council Bluffs, Iowa, is a good mother, and like all good mothers she keeps a careful watch for the welfare of her two young children. And when little four-year-old Lucille Hise wasn't feeling as her mother knew she should she decided to do something about it. Mrs. Hise gave Lucille HADACOL because she had heard how much it was helping children who had poor appetites and stomach distress caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. It helped her so much that now Mrs. Hise gives HADACOL to both of her children.

Here is what Mrs. Hise says: "My daughter has taken two bottles of HADACOL and she was been eating more than before and also sleeps better. I think HADACOL is the best thing for children who do not have an appetite. My daughter is four years old. Before taking HADACOL my daughter complained of her stomach hurting her, and I got her a bottle of HADACOL and she says her stomach doesn't bother her any more. I think HADACOL is wonderful. I am also giving HADACOL to my three-year-old daughter."

HADACOL Is So Effective
An important thing about HADACOL is that you get Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in liquid form, which means that they are quickly absorbed and dispatched to the blood stream, ready to go right to work. HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of the blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every part of your body.

Advancements To Be Made; Badges Given

A new plan to stress the need for cooperation between scouting and parents will be tried at the next Boy Scout Court of Honor to be held Monday April 2 at 7:30 P. M. in Memorial Hall.

Scouts who plan to receive merit badges or an advancement will need to be accompanied by one of their parents or sponsor in order to receive the awards at the court.

Courts of honor are held at intervals throughout the year in the county, with members of scout troops, their parents and friends attending.

Kenneth Chaney, advancement chairman, will preside at the meeting, and Troop 133 of the Following the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the audience and the "Pledge of Allegiance To The Flag," by life scout Bob Lewis, Rev. C. B. Tigner of the First Christian Church, will give the invocation.

Three musical numbers, group singing led by William B. Clift, a piano solo by David Foster and a number by the Scout band are also to be on the program.

Rev. Allan W. Caley, pastor of the Grace Methodist Church, will address the group, followed by the candle lighting investiture service by members of Troop 152 of the First Baptist Church.

The Court of Honor will then be held for those scouts who have completed their work on advancements and badges.

Announcements will be made, the colors retired, and Rev. Harold J. Braden, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will give the benediction to close the court.

"IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Mrs. Donna Zimmerman and Miss Cordelia McGuffey today were still talking about the "wonderful time" they had at the 33rd annual meeting of the McGuffey Society in Columbus this week.

The program, they said, was built around the contribution to education made by William Holmes McGuffey, author of the historic McGuffey Readers. He did most of his work at Miami University at Oxford, where meetings of the society are held frequently.

Mrs. Zimmerman and Miss McGuffey were among the 500 at the banquet. The after-dinner program consisted of group singing, dramatization of stories from the McGuffey readers, discussions by selected speakers and songs by the Temple male quartet.

The meeting was held in the King Avenue Methodist Church.

Announcement was made Thursday in a long distance telephone call from Gilbert Barth, field representative for the Social Security Administration, that those persons who were made eligible for increased social security

They are asked to send a letter or card to the Social Security Administration, Old Postoffice Building, State and Third, Columbus. Those eligible for the insurance payments are veterans who served for 90 days or more with the armed forces between Sept. 16, 1940 and July 24, 1947 or their families. Announcement was also made that the Columbus office would be open all day Saturday.

Flags of Spain, Mexico, and the United States have flown over the Palace of Governors at Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Sunday School Lesson

By ROY L. SMITH

The thoughtful man who looks out upon our universe and undertakes to find an explanation for it is limited to two answers. It is either the result of accident and chance, or it is a result of some intelligent design. There can be no other solutions to the problem.

You Cannot Go Any Farther Back

The author of those verses of the book of Genesis went as far back in the processes of thought as it is possible for the human mind to go. He went back to the beginning and says, "In the beginning God . . ."

Modern science has come forward with some very interesting theories as to how the world arrived at its present form. Some say it was a long process of evolution, and others say they do not know—that the whole story of evolution has not been told. But the author of Genesis was not interested in the intermediate steps. He was concerned with origins, and said, "In the beginning God . . ."

He was, however, doing something much more significant than finding an explanation for the world as we know it. He was identifying everything in this world with a moral order. The God to whom he ascribed the beginning of everything was the God who drew a fine line between the right and the wrong. Rightness then does not depend upon force, majorities, or men's philosophies. It depends upon the endorsement of the Creator. You cannot go any farther back than that.

The Divinity of Humanity

There are those among us who declare that man is only another animal, and it must be admitted that man shares many qualities with the other creatures. There is a sense in which it must be said that man is an animal, but it must also be said that man is the only animal that is aware of the fact that he is an animal.

Man is the only creature in all creation who can say "I am," "I believe," "I think," "I will," "I hope," "I ought." For any creature capable of such amazing intellectual and spiritual powers some explanation must be found. It is not enough to say that man is only another animal. Someone has to tell us when he ceased to be an animal and became a self-conscious personality.

The old Hebrew who composed the book of Genesis had been wrestling with this problem, and finally came upon a great light. At any rate he explained man's unique position in this world by saying that God made him in his own image. That does not mean that man shares all the powers and attributes of God, but that man is in some way a reflection of the wonder of God.

The Effect of These Beliefs

One of the immediate effects of these two great beliefs is the preservation of the Jewish nation. In all the 3,500 years of Hebrew history this amazing nation has lived under its own kings no more than five hundred years. For thousands of years they have not even had a homeland. But they have survived—saved by the things they have believed.

The Sunday School lesson for April 1: "The Creation," Genesis 1-2; Psalms 104; John 1:1-3.

"The reason the Japanese government fears the Christian missionary so much," said a very astute woman one time in Korea, "is because they are teaching the Koreans that they are made in the image of God. You can never enslave permanently any people who believe that."

Ideas form the most valuable heritage any nation has. Genesis can work the same miracle for modern civilization that it worked for the ancient Hebrews, if we will fix its great teachings in our minds and teach them to our children.

Example in Tolerance Set by Cana of Galilee

By ERIC GOTTGETREU

CANA OF GALILEE—The village where Christ in the presence of his mother performed his first miracle, as told in John 1, 1-11, today sets a fine example of inter-ecumenical peace.

A brown-robed, Italian speaking Franciscan brother from Yugoslavia and a black-garbed, Arabic and Russian speaking Greek-Orthodox priest from the neighboring Kingdom of Jordan now act in this village as the devoted guardians of three of the "six water pots of stone" in which Jesus turned the water into wine for the marriage guests.

On the new political map of the Holy Land, Cana—one the mountain road from Nazareth to Tiberias—is in northern Israel. The modern Israel-Arab name of the village is Kafir Kana. Kafir stands for village.

There is no proof that the three pitchers shown in the red-domed Roman-Catholic church and in the green-capped Greek-Orthodox church are genuine remains from Jesus' time. The one shown in the Latin church looks too new. The two in the Greek church may have been baptismal fonts used in one of the earlier churches here. Yet people believe in their authenticity. And most who come here like to taste the water from the well into which the original pitchers were sunk and "filled up to the brim."

Inter-religious relations in New-Cana are good. As in other parts of Galilee, the Greek-Orthodox last year even celebrated Christmas on the same day as the Latins and the Protestants. And in addition to the Christians, several hundred Moslems also live here.

There was big excitement among the village children recently because of a death in Cana. Following an old custom, the family of the deceased sent a few loaves of bread, a good portion of beans and some sugar to the priest, so he could bless it while praying for the dead man's soul. After white-bearded, 60-year-old Archimandrite Prochoros performed the rites, he gave the bread to the poor and the sugared beans to the children.

Archimandrite Prochoros says he likes his job among the pitchers, the rich, the poor and the children of Cana. Before he came here, he had lived as a hermit for years among the shrubs of nearby Mount Tabor, the scene of the transfiguration of Christ.

Planning Advanced First Aid Class

Anyone who has taken the standard course of first aid, also anyone who has an outdated instructor's card and wishes to renew it, may enroll in an advance first aid course to begin April 9, 7:00 P. M.

The meeting will be in the Dayton Power & Light Co. upstairs room.

This course will be Monday through Friday nights from 7:00 P. M. to 10:00 P. M.

The same text books and band-aids as recently used will be in this course.

J. W. Yates, Red Cross first aid chairman, will be the instructor, and cover atom bomb injuries, as well as bacterial, chemical, and nerve gas warfare in the course.

Fuses Make Racket
FRANKLIN, Ind.—(AP)—Neighbors complained about noises "louder than shotguns." Police found some teen-age schoolboys were exploding land mine fuses. Police said the kids took them from a manufacturing firm and had passed them out to their friends.

Panthers of Lockland Wayne, 50-44, while Waynesburg's mighty Mohawks ran their string to 27 straight with a nip-and-tuck triumph over Ashley, 47-42.

Today's schedule called for Hamilton's Big Blue (25-1) to clash with Canton McKinley (17-7) at 2:35 P. M., and Columbus East (24-2), with Barborton's Magics (22-1) at 8:05 P. M. Both games were televised by Columbus, Dayton and Cincinnati stations, and a host of radio stations broadcast them.

snare the nod. It's the first trip to the payoff game for each.

Lockland Wayne, finalist two years ago, fouled itself out of another chance as 33 infractions were called against the all-Negro school, 22 in the first half. The rash of whistle-blowing slowed down the flashy Southern Ohioans after they had constructed a 30-26 half-time lead. They scored only 14 points in the last two quarters while Grand Rapids was chalking up 24.

Five players went out on fouls, three from Lockland Wayne and two from Grand Rapids. Little Joe Kiefer, smallest player to take the floor in the Class B games, was the Grand Rapids scoring giant with 15 points.

Lockland Wayne, after caging 13 of 28 shots from the floor in the first half, converted only seven of 38 in the final session.

Waynesburg, firing from everywhere on the floor, had the toughest possible game with Ashley as the Stark County crew handed the center district team its third loss in 29 contests.

The whistle-blowing picked up in the last half of the Mohawk-Ace tilt, too. Waynesburg, penalized only three times in the first half, drew 13 calls in the second session. Ashley, called five times in the first half, was penalized a dozen times in the late going.

Furgol Holds Lead In Golf Tourney

WILMINGTON, N. C., March 30—(P)—Marty Furgol, for the second straight week, nurses a slender lead going into the second round of a $10,000 open golf tournament.

The Long Beach, Calif., pro, who has won more than $4,800 this year for fifth money honors, was working on a five-under par 67 as the second round of the Azalea Open got under way today.

His work was cut out for him here as 15 players, all under par, were at his heels, no more than four strokes away.

State Tourney Changes Urged

COLUMBUS, March 30—(P)—Ohio's high school basketball coaches just aren't satisfied with the way the state championship tournament is being run, says Paul Walker, prexy of the State Coaches Association.

Walker, coach of Middletown's Middies, has some ideas on how the big cage carnival should be operated.

"The coaches," Walker opines, "believe it would be better to double the representation in the state meet. That means we should bring in eight teams, instead of four, for the finals in each class."

"In effect, that means we would bring two teams, instead of one, from each regional tournament into the state finals."

Walker, representing the coaches association, will present the views of the group before the state athletic board tomorrow morning.

Bigger Gym Wanted For State Tourney

COLUMBUS, March 30—(P)—Ohio High School Athletic officials—beset by the problem of larger quarters for the annual basketball tourney—won't find a solution in Columbus for at least three years.

That's how long it will take—at very best—to finance, plan and build the proposed multi-million dollar fieldhouse at Ohio State University.

Even Ohioans teed off at the inadequate seating of the State Fairgrounds Coliseum will agree that the best geographic location for the basketball championship finals is in the center of the state.

But, they do argue it isn't fair to hold it in a building that will handle, at the best, only 8,000 customers.

So, the dissatisfied ones say the tournament—a Columbus fixture except for the war years—should be moved to Cincinnati or Cleveland. Southern Ohioans hold out for Cincinnati; northern Ohioans are about as ardent for Cleveland.

H. W. Emswiler, Ohio High School Athletic Commissioner, says "we could use a fieldhouse that seats 20,000".

Moose Baseball Tryouts Sunday On Good Hope Lot

Given half a break by the Weatherman, tryouts for the Moose baseball team of the SWO League will be held Sunday afternoon on the diamond at Good Hope.

The shift in the scene of activities was made, Tommy Smalley, the headman, said, after it was learned that Wilson Field here might not be available this season.

For several years, the Moose team and the Eagle outfit that preceded it as the Washington C. H. representative in the sport, used the lot in Cherry Hill. Smalley did not amplify his announcement about the shift to Good Hope.

The Moose, Smalley said, will be permitted a squad of 22 players under league rules.

Already 16 are lined up, he added, but the gate is still wide open to ambitious youngsters wanting to have a fling at the game. Seven of the present roster are holdovers from last year.

"We need players for every position," Smalley said as he expressed the hope that there would be a big turnout Sunday afternoon.

SCO League games are to be played on Sunday afternoons, just as they have been in the past.

Smalley said boys interested in making a try for the team could get further details either from him or Kenny Dawes of Good Hope.

Cy Young Honored On 84th Birthday

NEW PHILADELPHIA, March 30—(P)—Cy Young started his 85th year today feeling good enough to "throw one over if I had to."

At least that's what the great pitcher told some 300 friends at his 84th birthday party here last night.

He didn't talk much. When he did, he said what he's said before—

That "pitchers today are loafing. They don't work hard enough to get in condition."

As a birthday present Young received a new sedan. He doesn't drive, but Mr. and Mrs. John Benedum, on whose farm he lives near Peoli, O., will chauffeur him around.

Double Distinction

NEW YORK (AP)—Lou Novikoff, the "Mad Russian," led two minor leagues in batting the same year! In 1939 Novikoff topped the Texas League hitters with .368 in 419 times at bat. He was playing for Tulsa and was promoted to Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast League late in the season. He then proceeded to belt the horsehide at a .452 clip for 135 times at bat to lead the PCL in the batting department.

Achievement Day

Scissor Sisters 4-H Club advisor, gave a short talk on farm safety and explained the statewide farm safety contest. The Scissor Sisters, she said, have entered the contest and expressed the hope that other 4-H clubs in the county would interest themselves in the safety movement.

As a part of the contest, the club members inspect homes and farms for safety hazards; points are awarded for the hazards found. The clubs are judged on the basis of their reports.

Other features of the Achievement Day included a panel discussion led by Mrs. Norma Campbell, a skit by the Union Township Community Club on "To Plan or Not To Plan", a talk on home-made rugs by Miss Jane Schoppe of Ohio State University, and a talk by Mrs. Ira Warrick, Dark County homemaker.

Mrs. Warrick spoke on a trip she made last year as one of seven women from Ohio selected to attend a meeting of the Associated Country Women of the World held in Denmark. She had planned to show the group pictures of the trip, but a bright sun which filled the church with light, prevented the showing.

She said understanding was the key for peace in the world and suggested that women here write to women in nations overseas.

The Women's Chorus entertained the group with a few selections. Mrs. W. J. Wheeler was the director.

CHAPTER FORTY-FIVE

THE IMPULSE seized Jennet to ride on to the Seneca village. It might be—oh, it might be that, with the river safe to cross now, Peter had come back to Te-osah-way.

But a quarter of a mile on, three Indians suddenly walked from out of the woods into the road, so unexpectedly and noiselessly that Aladdin stopped short, almost throwing Jennet over his head.

"How do you do?" she said, a little shakily.

Each Indian made some expressionless sound in answer. They had bright feathers in their forelocks, but except for that they were the nondescript outfits of the local militia. Each carried an old musket. All three stood motionless, waiting for her to go on. But she must ask him. She had to force her voice over a queer terror tightening her throat.

"You are from Te-osah-way—perhaps you can give me some word of Peter. Grant. To tell my uncle, Quintus Darby. Where he is...?"

They looked beyond her, their faces blank of expression. Then one answered. "The Mohawks are no longer our brothers. They fight against the white men with whom we have chosen to ally ourselves." He spoke in as smooth English as Peter but his guttural voice gave his words an ominous sound.

"Not Peter," protested Jennet but to empty air for, at a sign from the man who had spoken, and without a glance at Jennet, the three walked across the road and into the woods on the other side. She swung Aladdin around to ride home.

"I hate war! I hate, hate it!" She cried it aloud, and it released tears that would not come before.

Becky ran out into the yard to meet her.

"You missed it, Jennet! You missed seeing it!"

Jennet slid out of the saddle. "Seeing what?"

"The brig! It's back—it went down the river. Another ship with it—the prize it captured, the men said it was. Everyone shouted and they shouted back from the brig. If you hadn't gone off for a ride

Becky paused to give her a sharp look. "Why for have you been crying?"

"May a person not cry when she wants to without remarks being made about it?" But Jennet's cross tone was from the keen disappointment she felt over missing the sight of the brig. She saw that Becky was hurt. "I'm sorry I spoke so, Becky. I was—upset over something."

Becky offered Jennet the only consolation she could think of at the moment. "With the brig back, Mr. Erron will be coming."

"Becky, I've told you. Jennet stopped, knowing she was close to speaking sharply to Becky again. She turned and led Aladdin into his shed.

But she felt her heart beating faster—of course, because the brig had come back. Aladdin stabled, she sought out Quint at the landing.

"Becky told me—does the brig look just as she did, Uncle Quint?"

"Aye," Quint used Dan's word. "He was starting down the river where the brig had disappeared from view and, for all she had returned to the yard as sound in timber as when she left it, the look of deep loss was on his face."

Lively talk went on among the men around them. Each knew something to contribute to it. The other ships in Perry's fleet were anchored off the Buffalo village. A big banquet was to be given this night in MacLeod's Tavern to honor Perry and the men who had manned his fleet. Riders were covering the frontier, giving out invitations to attend. Others were re-questioning roasting towels for the table. There'd be speechmaking as befitted the occasion. A great bonfire on the Terrace.

Jennet listened to it all with a growing excitement of her own. Erron would be among those men so honored. Uncle Quint would be invited—and she would go with him. She had only the gray dress to wear but she would brighten it with fresh lace and ribbon.

It seemed now another girl who, but a half-hour ago, had ridden homeward, utterly desolate in heart. Presently the men around them went each his way, leaving her and Quint alone. His quiet was not encouraging and she asked with some apprehension, "We will go to the celebration, won't we, Uncle Quint?"

"We have not been invited." "But you built the brig—it's yours"

"It belongs now to the United States Navy." He looked at her, his face drawn in harsh lines. "If you are disappointed at not attending this banquet, I must take the blame for it. You see, I have left my loyalty become a matter of doubt—I am looked upon with suspicion by the more zealous among the patriots here on the frontier, and I fear you are under the same cloud."

"How stupid they are. You are as loyal as any of them. Just because you can't fight with only one arm. That is why that man in the store said the wedding probably would be across the river—he knows, they all know, that my father is in Canada and they think they don't know that I am through with him forever, that you were, long ago!" She gave a little angry toss of her head. "But it's not their affair, to know!"

Quint looked down at her, a grave sadness in his eyes. She had matured since that night she had declared herself free to live her own life, but she was still very young—she had much yet to learn. Only a few men remained in the town for almost every man in the settlement had gone to the Buffalo village, either to attend the banquet or to linger about outside MacLeod's, for a chance glimpse of Captain Perry. But suddenly voices were raised in a chorus of greeting, and Becky, always hopeful that each newcomer might be Michael Duffy, flew to the door to peek through the taproom.

She flew back. "Jennet—it's Mr. Erron! I told you he'd be coming!"

"He has only stopped in on his way to the banquet to see Uncle Quint."

But Jennet was listening. Very soon she heard only one voice and knew it was Erron's. Others began to talk, lauding Erron, doubtless, for a part in the capture. Then they were drinking toasts to him. Evidently he was in no hurry to go on to the banquet. But what kind of manners had he, not to ask to pay his respects to her before he went on?

Song Festers Present Typical Evening Session

Entertain Those
At Rural Life
Meet at Lees Creek

Some 40 song festers put their art and song making talents on public display for the first time Thursday night, when they performed before persons in attendance at the Rural Life Association conference.

Their performance was staged before an appreciative audience of about 150 persons who assembled in the Lees Creek Church amid a roar of wind and rain from a thunderstorm which raged outside.

The Rural Life Association conference shifted to Wilmington Friday for sessions today and Saturday.

Object of the performance of the song festers was to demonstrate a typical song fest, similar to those which are held approximately each month in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wipert on the Wilmington Road.

Rural life leaders were interested to learn that the song fests held at the Wipert home have drawn 270 persons since they were started in August of 1947. The meeting Thursday night was the 20th in the history of the group.

The biggest attendance at a song fest was 80. There were 14 out for the first song fest, the smallest attendance.

The program was opened Thursday night by the group singing "Over My Head."

Uric Acton told two stories and accompanied the group in singing the familiar songs, "Look for the Silver Lining," "Shine on Harvest Moon" and "Let the Rest of the World Go By."

Present Instrumental Music

Lynn and Bryan Brock played some tunes on the piano to illustrate what the younger generation can do at song fests. Lynn played "Happy Farmers" and Bryan played "Rodeo." The pair combined to play the duet "Above the Stars."

Mose Wilson, Clyde Garringer and Ed Jenkins combined their talents to present a sample of instrumental music which is typical of that played by the song festers. They played "Under the Double Eagle," "Over the Wave" and "Washington and Lee Swing" on two banjos and a guitar.

The group then sang a folk song, "Walking at Night," accompanied by Miss Frances Ging.

Dr. Clyde Rogers, secretary of the town and country department of the Ohio Council of Churches, told the audience the story about folk songs.

The group then sang the spiritual "Rock-A-My-Soul."

Hal Summers, a "ten timer" (attended 10 song fests), was the guest soloist and sang "I Heard a Forest Praying."

The program was closed with a quartet and a trio from the church sang songs.

A panel discussion was held under the direction of Dr. Clyde Rogers, moderator.

House Burglarized Thursday Night

The Harry Reynolds home a few miles northwest of Washington C. H., was broken into Thursday night, but so far as is known nothing of value was taken.

Entrance was gained by breaking a window. All doors were left open by the intruders.

The Reynolds have been in Florida and are expected to be back Friday.

Sheriff Orland Hays investigated.

Driver Arrested Here at Early Hour

Jack Belford Jennings, 32, Richmond, Ind., was taken into custody by police at 2:55 o'clock Friday morning and a charge of driving while intoxicated was placed against him.

Jennings was arrested on South Fayette Street, where his car was zig-zagging from side to side of the street, nearly colliding with parked cars on both sides of the street, police said.

He was later released on $150 bond.

Marting Herefords Bring Good Prices

Emerson Marting today was elated over the prices his two champion registered Hereford females brought at the Buckeye Polled Hereford Association sale in Zanesville Thursday and made no attempt to conceal it.

He said he felt certain that the $2,575 brought for his Miss Larry Elation M was the highest price ever paid for a Hereford heifer calf in the state. The 10-month-old heifer had won the grand championship for females at the show the previous day.

Larrianna Mischief, the 18-month-old female that won the reserve championship for females, brought $2,525—almost as much as the champion.

Both the champion and reserve champion, Marting said, had been raised by him on his farm on the CCC Highway, west of Washington C. H., and entered in the show and sale by him.

The champion was bought by George Wilking of Zanesville and the reserve champion went to Iva Bope & Sons of Rushville.

The sale, which had a record average of $927, was topped by a bred heifer consigned by Wilking. She brought $3,000.

At least four Fayette County farmers made purchases of Hereford breeding stock at the sale. Bulls were purchased by George Fogle, William Starr, Howard Jefferson and Omar Rapp.

Crime Inquiries

Mr. Truman's comments were made in a statement he read at a White House news conference.

3. The committee cancelled previous plans for giving five bawky witnesses a last chance today to escape possible contempt charges.

The five, all of whom refused at recent hearings to answer questions, include Jacob Greasy (Thumb) Guzik, repeated moneyhandler for Chicago's Capone mob, and Morris Kleinman and Louis

The other two are William G. O'Brien of Chicago, involved in the committee's investigation of race wire service to Miami Beach bookies, and John Croft, who was questioned about swank gambling casinos in the northern Kentucky area.

The committee voted contempt citations against O'Brien and Croft yesterday. This was only a few hours after Croft had been brought in for questioning after being picked up by FBI in a fishing shack in the Florida Keys.

4. Mr. Truman told his news conference he does not contemplate any change in the status of William O'Dwyer as ambassador to Mexico. At the crime committee's recent hearings in New York, a witness testified he had given O'Dwyer, former New York mayor, $10,000. O'Dwyer denied it.

"Short" Is Found In Lights Cable

The jittery traffic lights, which had been showing double and confusing the public generally, were put back on regular schedule about 4:30 P. M. Thursday.

E. O. Snyder Electric Service workers found a backing car had broken the conduit at the base of one of the steel supporting posts at the corner of Court and North Streets, and the cables had become exposed and rain had caused a "short."

Repairs were made, and the lights turned back on within a short time after the trouble was located.

As result of the "short" or leak, both red and green lights showed constantly, with one usually much dimmer than the other.

It was the second time in a year that trouble had developed and both were showing at the same time.

William Wilson, 28, of suburban Cincinnati, was completely wrecked. A rear tire had blown out while the car was traveling at an estimated speed of 90 miles an hour. The car started skidding in Fayette County and went some 500 feet into Madison County. It crashed into and broke off the end of a concrete culvert. Three of the occupants--Wilson, Richard Jenkins, 25, and Freeman L. Willis 23, all of Cincinnati, were brought to Memorial Hospital here and treated for cuts, bruises and sprains. Walter J. Smith, 25 and Willie Jones, 19, also of Cincinnati escaped with a severe shaking up. Incidentally, the entire party missed the tournament!
